Credit For Proficiency Workshop Series

Proven workshop for implementing Credit for Proficiency

Interested in implementing Credit for Proficiency in your school district? Do you need help in identifying the elements and seeing models from other schools?

This three-day workshop addresses how Credit for Proficiency supports high school reform standards and meets the needs of ALL students. Participants will understand critical issues in writing policy, procedures, practices and assessment. All participants will develop a plan using numerous samples from other schools to implement credit for proficiency for their schools.

Workshop Facilitator:

Diane Smith, Director of Curriculum and Instruction
Greater Albany Public School District

Who Should Attend:

Districts are encouraged to send a representative team. That team includes district and school administrators and teachers.

Workshop Format:

Three one-day sessions occur over the course of a two-month period to promote collaborative learning that results in implementation plans.

Dates and Location:

M/T Sept. 29th, 30th AND Friday Nov. 14th at Douglas ESD in Roseburg
8:00 AM to 3:00 PM

Price:

$0 to those within the Douglas ESD service area, $395/person to other registrants. Graduate credit is available

"The workshop series [was] "an 'absolute homerun' for our team. . . A must for any district that wants to take on this challenge. . . In short, it is among the 'top five' professional development events that I have encountered in my 22 years of education."

Steve Kelley, Lebanon Community School District
